NEW PARTY ORGANIZED AT CHICAGO.

Delegates From Every State Meet to Plan For Political Power in 1900—Strong Fight to Be Made to Win Victory for Silver Next Time.

Chicago, June 9.—Silver republicans as a party had their birth yesterday. Representatives of the republicans of thirty states assembled at the Leland hotel and renounced the old party and its money doctrine, to set up a new one with silver as their standard. Silver and silver alone was the rallying cry of the forces. All others questions and all other purposes were forced into the background. Only one sentiment was expressed, and that was silver.

It was 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon when ex-Congressman Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, amid great cheering, went to the front and declared the meeting open. Without much ado Mr. Towne read an address which he said gave the history and the reasons for the call of what he called the first "council" of the silver republicans of the country. Mr. Towne's address in part follows:

"Our motives are these: We desire above all things else of immediate political concern the speedy re-establishment in the United States of true bimetallism; the same privilege of free coinage at the mint for both gold and silver, and absolute equality between them in all money power, when coined, with the option to every payer, whether the government or an individual, to choose what coin shall be the basis of payment in every instance.

"Is it too much to expect or is it injudicious in me to express the hope that silver Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans may by 1900 be welded into one strong and serviceable instrument in the hands of Providence for the political regeneration of the country and the beginning of reform, restoring the spirit of the constitution and contributing to the advancement and happiness of mankind?"

Chairman Towne appointed J. B. Menager of West Virginia secretary of the council. He read several telegrams of congratulation and commendation, among these being messages from Senator Cannon, Gen. A. J. Warner and Norman Cameron of Boston.

When former Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho moved the appointment of the committees on credentials, order of business and order of organization, he was applauded. The committees were then named.

While these committees were out the assembly insisted upon hearing from Mr. Dubois, and there was great cheering when the man who led the bolt at the St. Louis convention spoke.

Alexander Delmar, a well-known writer on many subjects, also made a speech. "The sum of it all is," he said, "they in Europe are not with us. They have a scheme of their own. International bimetallism is the Greek cannon which never fires. It will be proofless for us to wait upon the want bimetallism."

European nations, for they do not. Congressman Hartman kept up the enthusiasm in a fifteen-minute address. He was careful to make it plain that the silver Republicans were not opposed to any other forces which were working for free silver.

The committee on credentials then reported the following as the regularly accredited delegates to the council:

Alabama: Cutler Smith; Arkansas, Thomas Boles; California, Nathan Cole, Jr.; Colorado, A. M. Stevenson; Connecticut, Joseph Sheldon; Delaware, Charles G. Prettyman; Idaho, Fred T. Dubois; Illinois, James H. Teller; Indiana, Flavius J. Van Vorhis; Iowa, William Connor; Kansas, Dr. Frank B. Lawrence; Kentucky, A. J. Mosset; Louisiana, S. L. Craig; Michigan, C. E. Watkins; Minnesota, Frank A. Day; Mississippi, J. D. Clarkson; Montana, Charles D. Hartman; Nebraska, D. D. Gregory; New Jersey, James A. Fleming; New York, Ben S. Dean; North Dakota, H. M. Creel; Ohio, J. C. Harper; Oklahoma, Dr. F. S. Peck; Oregon, Charles W. Taimadge; South Dakota, B. H. Lien; Utah, W. C. Jones; Washington, George W. Thompson; West Virginia, J. B. Menager; Wisconsin, Dr. Frank Powell; Wyoming, A. A. Johnson.

After the birth of the new silver party the promoters adopted the report of the organization committee and elected Chairman Charles A. Towne to the office of chairman of the national central committee.

The report of organization as adopted is as follows:

"Whereas, In order to preclude any basis for either misunderstanding or misrepresentation as to the object of this organization, it is prudent to make known the controlling principle of its existence; therefore,

"Resolved, That the silver Republican party of the United States favors the immediate establishment of bimetallism by the independent action of the United States through the free coinage of both silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, and the clothing of both metals equally with every attribute of full money, with the right of every debtor to choose which coin shall be the basis of payment; and,

"Resolved, That the achievement of this great object is deemed by us of paramount political importance, and shall form the controlling motive of our political action until it is accomplished.

"Your committee on plans and organization for the silver Republican party of the United States beg leave to submit this, our report:

"We recommend the appointment of a national executive committee of seven members, including the national chairman, to be appointed by the chairman of the national committee.

"The executive committee, with the advice and consent of the national committee, is authorized to call a national convention of the silver Republican party, to meet at such time and place as they may designate, and to perform the necessary details therefor.

"In those states where organizations are not complete the members of the national committee for such states shall take such steps under the direction of the national committee as are necessary to complete such organizations."

BEAT HIM TO DEATH BECAUSE HE FIRED

A MINE SUPERINTENDENT KILLED BY A MOB.

A. W. Morgan In Charge of the Chicago & Minonk Coal and Tile Works, At Minonk, Ill., Shoots a Striker and Is Mobbed—Men Who Did the Work Are Poles.

Minonk, Ill., June 9.—Two men were killed, one wounded, and two others considerably bruised in a strikers' outbreak at the Chicago and Minonk coal and tile works. The dead are:

A. W. MORGAN, superintendent of the Chicago and Minonk coal and tile works; beaten and kicked to death.

JOHN VETOSKI, JR., a striking miner; shot and instantly killed by Morgan.

Intending to resume operations in the mines, Superintendent Andrew W. Morgan accompanied a colored miner to work Tuesday morning shortly before 7 o'clock. When near a lot of company houses, known as the West row, they met a lot of Polish miners. One of them stepped up, touched the colored man on the shoulder, and asked him to go back into the crowd, as they wished to talk to him. He did so.

Mr. Morgan thought they were going to assault the man, and fired two shots into the crowd to intimidate them. It had just the opposite effect, and the men moved toward him, all the while jeering at him.

Then Morgan fired into the crowd, striking a Polish miner on the head and inflicting a scalp wound, and glancing from him it struck John Vetoski, Jr., just behind the left ear, severing the jugular vein and lodging in the brain, killing him instantly.

The men then rushed in, knocked down Morgan, and beat and kicked him into insensibility. They would have killed him if Edward Kelly, a company man, had not interfered at his own peril. After being knocked down several times, he succeeded in carrying Morgan to the company's office.

Morgan lived until 1:30 p. m., but never regained consciousness. The immediate cause of his death was twenty-three cuts and one hip was broken. His body was black from the hips up and the back of his head was crushed.

The inquest on Vetoski's body was begun in the morning, and occupied nearly all the afternoon before the verdict was returned.

Morgan's death pacified the enraged Poles, and they returned to their homes.

The men had been on a strike since May 1.

THE WORK WAS SOON DONE

Illinois Maccabees Transact All Business Promptly.

Peoria, Ill., June 9.—The second annual convention of the Great camp for Illinois of the Knights of the Maccabees began Tuesday morning and by rushing through business succeeded in getting through at night. The convention was called to order by S. A. Niebuhr of this city, record keeper of New Hope tent, No. 45, who introduced Mayor Warner, who delivered the address of welcome. D. D. Aitkens of Flint, Mich., supreme counselor of the order, responded in a short address, after which Great Commander James F. Downer took charge. Committees were appointed on credentials, laws, finance, appeals, new business, resolutions and location. The committee on credentials reported 118 camps represented. J. F. Downer, Chicago, was elected great commander.

The laws were changed so as to fix the meeting of the state camps on the second Tuesday of the month prior to the meeting of the Supreme tent.

AGREE ON A DUTY FOR RAW COTTON

PASSED BY A DECISIVE VOTE IN THE SENATE.

Action of the Republican Caucus Gives Promise That Work on the Tariff Measures Will Be Pushed—Movement to Protect Our Beef—Calhoun Will Not Talk

Washington, June 9.—By the decisive vote of 42 to 19 the senate Tuesday adopted an amendment to the tariff bill placing raw cotton, the great product of the south, on the dutiable list at 20 per cent ad valorem. It is the first time in the history of tariff legislation that a duty on cotton has been incorporated in a bill.

The debate on cotton took up the most of the day and but little progress was made on the bill. Early in the day the sugar schedule was passed over and the agricultural schedule taken up. The paragraph on cattle went over, but the rest of the agricultural schedule up to and including paragraph 228 was agreed to—reported, all amendments except that of Mr. Bacon's being rejected.

The Republican senators at a caucus agreed upon a new sugar schedule. The caucus was well attended, nearly every Republican senator in the city being present. Senator Aldrich, after the caucus adjourned, said it was very successful, and that he felt that the Republicans were going to stand together on all schedules of the bill and that an agreement would be reached where differences of opinion existed. Almost the entire time of the caucus was devoted to consideration of the sugar schedule; other features where there are differences were not reached.

An important feature of the caucus was the determination reached to vote together as a party, which insures favorable action on all contested schedules and the passage of the bill, as approved by the majority.

The main propositions on the sugar schedule were those fixing the rate on refined sugar. There were three of these propositions. The one adopted fixing the rate at 1.95 of a cent per pound in place of 1.875, as fixed by the house bill, was suggested by Senator Spooner. Senator Perkins suggested 1 3/16 cents, and Senator Wellington the rate of the house bill. The last amendments were voted down viva voce and the Spooner amendment accepted by an almost unanimous vote.

Protecting Our Beef.

Blow Aimed at Discrimination by Foreign Countries.

Washington, June 9.—The administration has outlined an important policy to end, if possible, the controversies between this government and Great Britain, Germany, France and Belgium regarding the exclusion of American cattle and dressed beef. This policy contemplates the submission of an earnest joint protest by the diplomatic representatives of the United States at London, Berlin, Paris and Brussels, aiming at the revocation of the discriminatory regulations which these nations have imposed upon American cattle and beef.

Mr. Calhoun and Judge Day declined to be interviewed.

Conspiracy to Save Bartley.

Omaha, Neb., June 9.—The trial of ex-State Treasurer Bartley on the charge of embezzling about $500,000 was begun Tuesday in the midst of charges of bribery and corruption. Court officials says that a gigantic scheme has been put in operation in this city with the object of influencing members of the jury panel now on duty in the District court to acquit Bartley. For this purpose, it is alleged, many thousands of dollars are to be used as bribes. Several jurymen claim to have been offered large sums to acquit Bartley.

Iowa's Weekly Crop Bulletin.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 9.—The weekly crop bulletin says: "The continued cold weather has been unfavorable to corn, causing increased difficulty in procuring a good stand from seed that was deficient in vitality. The reports of 700 crop correspondents of the state service, made June 1, rated the condition of corn 79 per cent."

SIXTY ARE HURT AT A FIRE

Explosion in a Chicago Fireworks Store Causes One Death and Maims Scores.

Chicago, June 9.—An explosion of fireworks wrecked a building at Halsted and Van Buren streets, caused the death of one person, the injury of many, and threw the west side into a panic yesterday. The disaster originated and caused most ruin in the fireworks store of Nathan Shure, at 210 Halsted street, but glass fronts and windows in all the buildings of the neighborhood were shattered, and the shock was felt by terrified residents many blocks away.

The financial loss will be close to $100,000.

SAY GREECE IS IN DANGER

Possibility that the Peace Negotiations May Fall Through.

London, June 9.—The peace negotiations do not seem to make much progress, and there was considerable disquietude in Athens last evening, caused by the apparently correct statement that the negotiations were in danger of collapsing altogether.

It is said on good authority that the powers are now trying to induce Turkey to sign general peace conditions, defining broad limits within which Turkey and Greece should afterward settle details by direct negotiations.

This news is regarded at Athens with dismay as a breach of faith on the part of the powers, and as leaving Greece to the tender mercies of the sultan. It is believed by many good judges at Athens that Greece may yet have to fight for her very existence.

Wheat in Bad Condition.

Lansing, Mich., June 9.—The Michigan crop report says that the average condition of wheat in the state is 78 per cent as compared with 77 one year ago. This is a falling off of 4 per cent from May 1. Wheat has been badly injured by the wet weather. The acreage planted to corn is 99 per cent of that of average years. That planted to oats is 91 per cent, and the condition of this crop is 86. Reports from 900 townships indicate that the number of sheep now on hand in the state is nearly 8 per cent less than last year, when there was an average loss in the state of 29 per cent, as compared with 1895. Complete returns will show less than 1,200,000 sheep 6 months old and over in the state this spring.

Frost Damage in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—The Indiana weekly crop bulletin says, in part: "Frost formed several nights and did some damage to corn, beans, tomatoes and potatoes. Rye is heading out well on tall straw. Oats are coming on slowly, but well. Potatoes are in good condition. Meadows promise a very heavy hay crop."

Badger United Workmen Meet

Order Threatened with Secession of Grand Lodge of Ontario.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 9.—The twenty-fifth stated meeting of the Supreme lodge of the ancient Order of United Workmen of the United States and Canada opened at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with all the supreme officers and members of standing committees and about 160 delegates present. The session, which are held in the lodge hall of the University building, will continue from day to day for a week or ten days.

It is understood there is an unusually large amount of legislative work in hand, including final action upon a move made by the Grand lodge of the order in Ontario to secede from the supreme body, and, doing away with all name and reference to the Supreme lodge, conduct a grand lodge of its own in the Dominion, independent of the order in the United States. This, it is claimed by the supreme officers, would be tantamount to open rebellion, and strong efforts are being made to avoid such results.

Officers of the Degree of Honor, the woman's branch of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, were elected in the afternoon. Mrs. M. J. Stewart, San Francisco, is supreme chief of honor.

Fire in St. Louis.

The Clarksville Cider company's warehouse next door caught fire, but the only loss there was 2,000 barrels of cider valued at $5,000. The loss to the Crunden company on stock is $40,000, and to the building, owned by the Cupples Realty company, $50,000. Others losses will bring the total to $120,000. This is fully covered by insurance.

Balls at the Court.

Ottumwa, Iowa, June 9.—Jesse K. Hamilton, convicted in twenty minutes by a jury for complicity in the Eldon bank robbery, was sentenced to the penitentiary for eighteen months. There was a sensation when the judge asked him if he had anything to say. He scored the Pinkertons and the court, and said that if he could be convicted on the evidence introduced against him "any man in the courtroom could be convicted for any crime." Nearly everyone who heard the evidence believes the man innocent.

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—Supreme Dictator Mulligan of New York presided at the session of the supreme lodge, Knights of Honor, which opened here Tuesday. The loss of 10,000 members since October 1 last year, when the new plan went into operation, has caused widespread discussion and comment, and the supreme body is somewhat exercised over the proper arrangement of its affairs.

MERCHANT OF VENICE
BY LOCAL PUPILS

JUNIORS PRESENT SHAKES-PEARS GREAT STORY.

Every Seat in the House Was Taken, and The Performers Were Given Enthusiastic Applause—Class Night Exercises to Occur This Evening—State School Closes.

Such an audience as the opera house has not seen in twelve months, enjoyed "The Merchant of Venice" last evening. It filled every seat, and made a demand for standing room. It was not a critical audience, but had it been doubly exacting, it would still have been forced to praise.

In many respects the production was a surprise.

There was a dash and sparkle about it hardly to be expected. The comedy possibilities were brought out with a touch that seemed impossible for amateurs in a first-night performance, and the heavier passages were given with much sympathy and understanding.

The casting of the play was very judicious. Miss Georgia Withington, as Portia, charmed by her beauty and the melody of her voice, and in the plea to Shylock was heard at the best. She was unconstrained and graceful and entered into her part with spirit.

Theo Smith gave a thoughtful and effective interpretation of the title role. He fawned and cringed, stormed and bullied, with quick transition, outlining the character with a sureness of touch hardly to be expected. He was called before the curtain by the enthusiastic applause at the end of the third act.

Mark L. McNamara had all the dignity and strength that the part of Antonio demanded, while the lighter lines allotted to Gratiano were fully appreciated coming from Fred A. Leahy, whose manner was in perfect keeping with his part.

"Honest Launcelot Gobbo" was so well impersonated by Oliver Bladon as to arouse a storm of laughter at each appearance. Bertrand Rutter won praise as old Gobbo and as Salanio. Clarence McDonald spoke Bassanio's lines forcefully and feelingly and Leonard Matthe's carried well the part of Lorenzo.

Miss Pearl Willey as Nerissa gave effective support to Portia in theasket and garden scene and Miss Alma Golling was a charming Jessica. Good Training Shown.

Fred Sutherland gave a dignified portrayal of the Duke of Venice and minor parts that were creditably carried were Harry North as Tubal, Percy Wallis as Salanio, Arthur Clark as Belthazar, page to Portia, Joseph F. Kennedy, as Leonard's servant to Bassanio, Misses Jessie Spoon, Harriet Owen and Mabel Lee as ladies in waiting and Joseph Kennedy, Chas. Cox, Morris Erickson and Alvira Lloyd as judges.

Throughout the play the training of Mrs. J. B. Day was apparent, and to her skillful management was also due the freedom from delays and interruptions. Rarely is a first night performance given with such smoothness.

Music was furnished during the evening by the High school orchestra. The full cast of characters was as follows:

MANY VETERANS IN STATE.

Eleven Thousand Civil War Survivors Reside in Wisconsin.

Colonel E. B. Gray, state commander of the G. A. R., who was in the city yesterday, gave some interesting figures on the number of veterans of the late war who are now living in the Badger state.

"In the great state of Wisconsin," said Colonel Gray, "there are today a fraction over 11,000 veterans of the late war who are now living, and who are classed by the G. A. R. as veterans 'in good standing.' In the United States today there are about 900,000 living veterans of the original soldiers of the North who once numbered 2,300,000."

PLAN A GRAND CONCERT

Prof. Kowalski To Be in Charge of the Musicians.

Steps are now being taken towards the giving of a grand concert, to take place about the middle of next month, in the Congregational church, to be under the personal direction and management of Professor Kowalski of Chicago. With the vocal talent that Janesville possesses, Professor Kowalski says that there is no reason why a concert cannot be given that would be a credit to both himself and to those who take part.

A testimonial that I value highly is the fact that so many skilled machinists in Janesville shops ride my wheels. An Ideal Standard....
We manufacture Pianos not only as a commercial end to the gaining of money but also for the glory and reputation of making the best Piano in the world if possible.
We would rather make one Piano a year with its attendant fame if it should be recognized as the best Piano ever built than to make a thousand inferior instruments without the reputation.
We build a Piano as an artist paints a great picture—to create a thing of artistic qualities.
Our standard is an ideal one. We urge the musical profession to examine our instruments and see how near we approach it.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

FEED LAMBS FOR MARKET. NEWS HEARD ABOUT THE CITY.

John Hurd of Fulton, Makes a Good Profit.

John Hurd, owner of an 800 acre farm in Fulton, shipped four carloads of lambs to the Chicago market. The shipment was the last of a large bunch, 2,500 head, he has been feeding on his farm during the winter, and have turned them in a nice profit on the venture. The lambs were Montana bred and purchased in Chicago late last fall when the average weight was not much over 50 pounds apiece. They have been fed all the grain they would eat the past winter until the gain was from 30 to 40 pounds each. The first few carloads sent to market were in prime condition and brought outside quotations. Mr. Hurd figures that the gain in weight will more than pay the cost of keeping them during the clip of wool, and the difference between the buying price of feeders and the selling price for market is the profit. Last season about 22 head was made by feeding lambs and this year it will probably not fall much below that figure. In the light of these figures sheep feeding is a better business than cattle.

R. W. McLEAN TELLS OF FLOOD

Great Damage Was Done in Texas, the Letter Says.

R. W. McLean, formerly of this city, but now of El Paso, Texas, writes to friends in this city, giving them an idea of the great amount of damage that was wrought in that city and vicinity by the floods. The country, for miles about, was submerged and not only was business of all kinds at a standstill but the running of trains was interfered with. The total damage is estimated at thousands of dollars.

FOUND "BIG INJUN'S" BONES

Skeleton, Unearthed While Digging at the Conway Farm.

Workmen, while excavating on the Patrick Conway farm in Harmony, unearthed a number of bones which bore strong evidence that they were once the framework of a powerful Indian. The excavation was made in a sand hill, and the bones were discovered fifteen feet below the surface.

Deal Gently With the Stomach.

If it proves refractory, mild discipline is the thing to set it right. Not all the caustic draughts and boluses ever invented can do half as much to remedy its disorders as a few wine-glassfuls—say, three a day—of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will afford it speedy relief, and eventually banish every dyspeptic and bilious symptom. Sick headache, nervousness, sallowness of the complexion, fur upon the tongue, vertigo, and those many indescribable and disagreeable sensations caused by indigestion, are too often perpetuated by injudicious dosing. An immediate abandonment of such random and ill advised experiments should be the first step in the direction of a cure; the next step the use of this standard tonic alternative, which has received the highest medical sanction and won unprecedented popularity.

FACTS ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF.

For the last two weeks our city has been electrified and dumbfounded by the wonderful work of a specialist from New York. Dr. Melville's office has been established in Janesville four weeks and a great number of patients are now under treatment, but she is aware that many deserving people have been unable to take treatment on account of the expense being beyond their reach.

Dr. Melville desires that everyone suffering from Catarrh, Deafness, Stomach, Nervous or other Curable Chronic Disease shall receive health at her hands; therefore she has determined to make a special price to all who apply during the month of June, as follows:

$10 PER MONTH

For medical treatment, medicines included, until cured, and to those who require a three month's course a rate of $30 will be made for that period, thereby securing

One month's treatment and medicine FREE.

This offer is good for old and new patients alike who apply during the month of June.

Now is the time to apply. 105 S. Main street.

NERVOUS DISEASES CURED.

Mrs. Bevell, a well-known and highly respected lady living on Washington street says:

It gives me great pleasure to say a word for Dr. Melville. I had been a sufferer for years from difficulties which only a woman can understand. A growth had developed for which a serious operation might have become necessary. Ordinary treatment being unavailing, I called on Dr. Melville. I found her pleasant, gentle, considerate, conscientious, and very much in earnest. She located my trouble, and I began treatment at once.

I gained very rapidly, and in one month was discharged, cured. I now feel perfectly well and stronger than in years. Any lady who desires to see me personally may call at my residence. Mrs. R. C. BEVELL.

DR. ANNA MELVILLE,

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.

D'ING LIKE FLIES.

One of Spain's coming troubles will be to face the revelation at the end of the rainy season, that most of its army of 250,000 men has perished. It is stated that even now a column of 5,000 men could not be organized to make a full day's march with campaign equipments. A Madrid paper says the district of Camaguey, with an area of 32,000 square miles, is almost stripped of troops, and none have ever been sent to the department of Oriente. If Weyler's morning reports could be seen in Spain his recall could not long be delayed. In a financial sense both Cuba and Spain are nearly exhausted. What is needed above everything at Madrid is a common sense recognition of facts, and a willingness to seek for peace in a reasonable spirit, after war has been carried to the point of collapse.

NO FREE LUMBER.

The effort to drop the principal paragraph in the lumber schedule of the Dingley tariff bill was checked so promptly that many Wisconsin people never heard of it. Some interesting statements from southern senators were brought out, however. One Georgia senator remarked that he was not a protectionist, but favored the new tariff duty on lumber. The other senator declared that he should vote for the lumber duty, and denied that he was a free trader.

If the south is not breaking for protection it is certainly bolting from free trade.

CLOUDS BREAKING.

The liabilities involved in the business failures in May were the smallest of any month since September, 1895. This is a fact of the very highest significance. More trade is done now than was done last year at this time, and far more than was done just before Bryan's overthrow, and it is done on better conditions. The aggregate of business transacted throughout the country is climbing up to the level of normal years, while the business mortality is declining.

Business men are inclined to regard the iron and steel industry as a trustworthy trade barometer. All the financial papers mention an improvement in this field. There is an increase in production and demand. Prices are low, but the growth in demand may soon send them up. The outlook in this great industry brightens.

Spain has hypothecated everything of value except her mines, and those are now to be pledged to furnish means for digging ditches across Cuba. It seems like a foolish waste of money. General Weyler should learn in time the ditches he digs are nothing but graves for his soldiers.

The willingness of Kansas farmers to receive McKinley dollars from grain buyers must not be taken to show any change in their belief that Bryan dollars are good enough for mortgages.

City Attorney McElroy's idea, that it is easier to take care of an angry sidewalk-owner than of a woman with a broken leg and a damage suit, has a broad basis of common sense.

If the republican party continues to redeem its campaign promises as fast as during the last three months, there will not be an inch of ground for kickers to stand on in 1898.

Must Janesville's patriotic fervor again be calculated on the basis of a count of the people who go to the other towns in search of a Fourth of July celebration?

Those "mythical American mills" that the democratic papers laughed about so much, have produced enough tin plate this year to unsettle the world's market.

The difficulty of forcing any kind of light through untrimmed shade trees must have struck the man in the moon quite as forcibly as it did Chief Hogan.

The patching of one or two holes in the medical expert system would do more to check damage suits than any amount of sidewalk patching.

The long man and the short man can get tickets to California and no questions asked if they only desire to quit working Janesville.

The issuing of sidewalk notices develops the fact that bad sidewalks always belong to the neighbors.

One or two commencement essays on the hunger of the puttle for Shakespeares would be timely.

Even in these hard times there seems to be such a thing as getting insurance too cheap.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 9.—[Special to Byrd & Law, Commission Company]—The last legislature passed a law enabling the warehouse men to do what the courts of the state had declared to be illegal, namely to buy and store and mix grain on their own account; but the board of trade so far as regards the making of warehouse receipts, regular for delivery on contracts made on the board of trade, is a law unto itself, and the board of directors have passed an amendment to the rules, by which it is in substance declared that the warehouses that performed the acts heretofore declared irregular by the courts but now made legal by an act of legislature, shall not be regular for delivery on contracts of the board of trade. This rule will be voted upon in ten days and if passed will curtail the amount of regular warehouses unless they comply with the requirements of the board; but all warehouse receipts which are now regular for delivery will continue to be regular six months after the first of July, even though the warehouse from which they were issued is declared irregular on the first of July.

This was one of the features of the market today. It created apprehensions on the part of shorts and stimulated some good buying and we had a rather sharp advance up to 70¢ from which point the market declined 3 cents.

Michigan authorities report a decline in the condition in that state; Bradstreet's visible supply was quite large and the opinion prevails that the government report tomorrow will show a slight depreciation from the last month but this will depend entirely upon the view which the government reporters take of Kansas and California. The speculative situation in view of the conflicting influences, is rather interesting and nervous, but back of it all looms up the probability of an actual scarcity of cash wheat for consumptive purposes before the new crop arrives, and this fact should not be lost sight of.

As regards the new crop options, it is a question of merit at present. These should be sold at every good opportunity. There is no relation between this and cash wheat. The northwest reports rain quite general and that is probably more important than the appearance of mountain locust in South Dakota. Prospects of warmer weather gave the corn market a weak feeling.

Looking for a Desperate Man.

"Here's a story of a California girl who saved her life by a kiss," he said, looking up from a paper.

"How was that?" she asked, with interest.

"She was confronted by a desperate man," he began.

"That's just the trouble," she broke in, scornfully. "You never seem to get desperate."

Immediately thereafter he gave her an imitation of a desperate man, and, while it was not very good, it served the purpose.—Chicago Post.

Observing the Proprietries.

"Now," said Mrs. Cumro, "I guess we're all ready for the dinner party."

"Sure you haven't forgotten anything?" rejoined her husband.

"Oh, yes! There's one little matter that I wish you would attend to for me. I want you to telephone to the confectioner and have him send up two or three pounds of bon mots. I understand it is considered proper to have some between the courses."—Washington Star.

A Daniel Come to Judgment.

"Your honor, my client admits that he did wrong, but consider the temptations of city life, sir; were they not too great?" said the lawyer in conclusion.

"It seems they were. We'll give him ten years in the country near Sing Sing," returned his honor. "He'll not be exposed to temptation there."—Hartford Life.

He Had Two.

"I will be a sister to you."

The young man heard these familiar words, but they did not fall like balm upon his wounds.

"Thank you," he replied, quietly.

"I have two old maid sisters now."

So these two, who by the exercise of mutual tact might have remained friends, parted in anger.—San Francisco Examiner.

Why He Couldn't.

"Why is it," they asked him, "that you have put your wedding day so far in the future?"

"That's easily explained," he answered. "When I started in to win her I had enough to get married on, but by the time I had won her I didn't."

You see, it cost me so much to get her that I haven't enough left to care for her now that I've got her, and I've got to give myself time to accumulate a little something again."—Chicago Post.

A Matter of Expense.

Jack—Was yours a long courtship, old fellow?

Will—Gracious, no! My wife had nine little brothers and sisters.

"Really. But what difference did that make?"

"What difference? Well, if you had to bribe a crowd like that to keep out of the parlor every time you went to see your girl, you'd soon want to cut expenses."—Boston Traveler.

Not a Bite.

A LONELY RETREAT.

"You know it is very naughty to tell lies, Ethel. People who do so don't go to Heaven."

Ethel (after a pause)—Won't it be lonely in Heaven, mother, with only George Washington?—Idler.

Regret.

'Tis strange, but true, that many men, Who cut unworthy capers, First feel remorseful o'er them when Their names get in the papers.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlan's the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

CANT BUY COLLARS ON SABBATH DAY

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE BAND-ED TOGETHER.

Clothing Stores and Tailor Shops Will Not Be Open On Sunday Hereafter —Merchants Who Violate the Agreement Must Pay $25—Clerks Put Scheme In Operation.

And they have banded together to keep front doors, side doors and back doors locked on Sundays.

The ???

No. The clothiers.

If the man of the house is in need of a clean shirt or a collar for Sunday he had better make his purchase on some one of the six days of the week, for the approaching Sabbath will find the doors in every local clothing store securely locked, and for the first time in the history of Janesville the local clothing stores are to close on the first day of the week. A petition has been circulated about the city today and was signed by the following firms:
J. L. Ford, J. D. Holmes, R. M. Bostwick,
T. J. Ziegler, Dearborn & Allen, John
M. Kneff, Cooper & Levy, Frank H.
Baack, and John Welsend.

The petition contains an agreement that none of these merchants shall sell, on Sunday, goods to any customer.

Except Cases of Death.

But one exception is made, and that is in case of death. When death enters a family, if clothing of any kind is needed, the merchant may sell to a customer, but in no other instance is an exception to the rule made. The rules and regulations as laid down in the petition read that in case this agreement is broken by any merchant the fine shall be $25 for the first offense and $50 for the second offense.
In case the fine is not paid legal steps will then be taken and the matter will be aired in the courts. Ever since Janesville was first incorporated as a city, the clothing merchants and tailors have kept their places of business open on Sundays. There has been no exception made to the rule.

An Old Established Custom

This custom has been in vogue so long that many patrons throughout the city who could not purchase their clothes in the day time during the working days of the week have invariably made Sunday their day of purchase. This extra day has meant the placing of many extra dollars in the money drawer, and one local merchant says Sunday was his best day during the week. This is especially true of the young men about the city who would drop in on Sunday now and then, buy a necktie or a collar and then spend an hour or so with the other men who happened to be in the store.

All these things were very nice for those who found it a convenience, but the hard working clothing clerks couldn't see it that way. It is mainly through their efforts that the new plan of closing on Sunday has carried the day.

CAME HERE 50 YEARS AGO

Today the Anniversary of the London
Family's Leaving Vermont

Fifty years ago today James London and his family left their little home in Orange county Vermont, for Janesville, Wis. They made the trip most of the way to Milwaukee by boat via Lake Champlain, the Erie canal, and the Great Lakes. The trip to that city took them nineteen days.
From the Great City they made their way here by team and soon after their arrival Mr. London made the purchase of 640 acres of land one mile south of the State School for the Blind at the nominal price of $1.50 per acre. He also purchased the two lots that are still owned by the Londons, at the corner of High and West Buff streets at $50 each. Mr. and Mrs. London are now dead but four sons and two daughters are now residents of this city.

HUGH MILLER GETS A SHOW

If He Fails to Find Work He Must Appear
In Court

If Hugh Miller does not get a job in Harvard, Ill., today he is to report in the municipal court tomorrow morning and answer to the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.
This morning Mr. Miller appeared before the court and on the promise that he would leave for Harvard, where he said a job was in waiting for him, he was allowed to depart, but not until the understanding was reached that in case the job was not secured he was to return to this city tomorrow morning and appear before the court.

George Welch was fined $1 and costs or one day in jail on answering the same charge.

Very Important to Piano Buyers.

A circular is being distributed in this city, announcing a "Manufacturers special sale of high grade pianos and offering them at prices astonishingly low.

To prevent any possible imposition on the citizens of this community, a careful investigation of the nature of this "special sale" has been made and it is found that the same is conducted by Hallett & Davis Co., one of the oldest and most reputable Piano Manufacturing concerns of this country, and also that the bargains and inducements they offer are not only genuine and tempting, but bona fide in every respect. Their ad is published on page 4, and it will undoubtedly benefit some people intending to purchase a strictly high grade piano at a price never heard of before.

MRS. APP RETURNS AND WANTS HOTEL

JUSTICE RICHARDSON TO DE-CIDE THE MATTER.

Seeks to Prevent the Extension of the Lease Made With Mr. and Mrs.
Herman Mattick, As She Wants to Run the Place Herself—The Case Is Now In Court.

Who will preside as landlady at the European Hotel for the next five years?

Mrs. Theresa W. App says that she will, while Mrs. Katherine Mattick says that she has every reason to believe that she will act the part of hostess herself. The question is to be solved in Justice M. P. Richardson's court.

The case is that of Mrs. Theresa
W. App vs. Herman and Katherine Mattick. Mrs. App, it will be remembered, was formerly Mrs. John Kenyon. Soon after her marriage, about a year ago, she moved to Selins Grove, Pennsylvania.

Previous to her marriage she was landlady of the European Hotel, which is located on Wall street opposite the Northwestern depot. The hotel in those days did a thriving business and as manager of a first class hotel Mrs. App soon acquired a reputation that any woman might well feel proud of. Previous to her removal to the Keystone state she leased the hotel, on April 23, 1895, to Herman and Katherine Mattick for a period of one year with a privilege of five.

Mrs. App Returns.

As the days and weeks passed, life in the coal regions of Pennsylvania was not exactly to the liking of a woman who had lived for years on the prairie lands of Wisconsin. Mrs. App, it is said, then left her home and went to reside with friends in Salem, Ohio.
Here she visited for several days, and but a few days ago arrived in this city for the purpose of making Janesville her permanent home. During all this period the hotel was under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Mattick, who have been doing a good business. Now they claim that they wish to take advantage of their privilege of its rental for the other five years. Mrs. App says that she will sign no such agreement, but that she is to be the next landlady.
She charges that her tenants have not lived up to the written agreements that are in the lease.

The case was called in Justice Richardson's court this morning at 9:30 o'clock and was adjourned till next Friday for the want of missing witnesses. Sutherland & Nolan appeared for Mrs. App, while the defendants are represented by Fethers, Jeffris, Field & Mount.

TWO NEW HOUSES GOING UP.

neighborhood of $1,500.

The excavation has been made for a $1,000 cottage to be erected by William Patterson, on Eastern avenue adjoining the street car power house.
The erection of this structure will help along the present building boom that has struck Spring Brook.

Barlass—Eldredge.

Christ Episcopal church never presented a more beautiful appearance than it did at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon when Miss Louise Eldredge and John Barlass took their places before the altar to be joined in the holy potted plants were used in profusion in decorating the sacred edifice for the happy occasion.

The bride entered the church unattended, while four little flower girls preceded her, they being Misses Helen son and Helen Barlass. The groom was accompanied by the groomsmen, Alfred Williams, of Chicago. The happy couple then took their places, and the Rev. G. W. Dunbar, assisted by the Rev. A. H. Barrington, performed the ceremony. About one hundred friends were present. Those who acted in the capacity of ushers were William Ruger, Jr., M. P. Richardson, W. W. Mezzies, and Howard Ruger.

Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the Prospect avenue home of the bride's parents, where congratulations were received and a wedding feast was served.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Barlass will leave on the 7:20 o'clock train for the east and after a two weeks visit they will return to Janesville to reside.

The bride is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Eldredge. She was born and raised in this city and re-

ARREST WM. JONES FOR WRITING POLICY

WARRANT ISSUED FOR WELL KNOWN CLINTON LAWYER.

He Is Charged With Making Out An Insurance Policy In a Compaay
Without a License To Do Business Under the Laws of the State—Appears In Municipal Court.

William Jones, formerly cashier of the Clinton bank, was arrested at Clinton this morning, by Under-Sheriff Wallace Cochran, charged with writing insurance contrary to the laws of the state. Mr. Jones was brought to Janesville on the noon train, and taken directly to the municipal court for a hearing, the case being adjourned until June 25.

The complaint upon which Mr. Jones was arrested charges that on the 27th of June, 1895, he insured the harness shop, tools, etc., owned by H. B. Col-grove, of that village, for $600 in the "Atlantic Fire Insurance Company," of Richmond, Va., and collected the premium, amounting to $18.

The complaint further states that Mr. Jones acted without a certificate from the state commissioner of insurance.

For some years Mr. Jones was the cashier of the Clinton bank, but gave up that position a short time ago. He is also a lawyer, being now a member of the Rock county bar.

Colgrove Burned Out

Before the policy in the Atlantic company was taken out, Mr. Colgrove it is said, was insured in another company, the premium charged being 4 cent. Later Mr. Jones offered to insure him in the Atlantic company for 3 per cent, which would save him $6 a year. Colgrove accepted the offer and the policy was written.

When the big fire occurred at Clinton, Mr. Colgrove was burned out.
Failing to get his insurance, he made an investigation and found that the Atlantic company was not authorized to do business in Wisconsin. He then laid the case before the authorities, and swore out the warrant for Mr. Jones' arrest.

The laws of the state classify the act mentioned as a misdemeanor, and provide that the punishment shall be a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500, the court having a right to impose a jail sentence of not more than three months if the fine is not paid.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to do very any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June I saw, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave and now I consider that I am entirely cured. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale at C. D. It Wouldn't Be Proper.
A well-known vicar gives a curious experience. It was his custom to point his sermons with either "Dearly beloved brethren" or "Now, my brothers," until one day a lady member of his congregation took exception to this and asked him why he always preached to the gentlemen and never to the ladies.
"My dear lady," said the beaming vicar, "one embraces the other."
"But not in the church!" was the reply of the astonished lady.—Tit-Bits.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn
A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity, a sense of loneliness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 49, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

CHAPTER VIII.

HOW DID THE SECRET LEAK OUT?

I made up for my three nights' lack of sleep by not waking the next morning till after 10. When I went to 218, I found only the chef, and he told me the party had gone for a ride. Since I could not talk to Madge, I went to work at my desk, for I had been rather neglecting my routine work. While I still wrote I heard horses' hoofs, and, looking up, saw the Cullens returning. I went out on the platform to wish them good morning, arriving just in time to see Lord Ralles help Miss Cullen out of her saddle, and the way he did it, and the way she continued to hold her hand after she was down, while he said something to her, made me grit my teeth and look the other way. None of the riders had seen me, so I slipped into my car and went back to work. Fred came in presently to see if I was up yet and to ask me to lunch, but I felt so miserable and downhearted that I made an excuse of my late breakfast for not joining them.

After luncheon the party in the other special all came out and walked up and down the platform, the sound of their voices and laughter only making me feel the bluer. Before long I heard a rap on one of my windows, and there was Miss Cullen peering in at me. The moment I looked up she called:

"Won't you make one of us, Mr. Misanthrope?"

I called myself all sorts of a fool, but out I went as eagerly as if there had been some hope. Miss Cullen began to tease me over my sudden access of energy, declaring that she was sure it was a pose for their benefit, or else due to a guilty conscience over having slept so late.

"I hoped you would ride with us, though perhaps it wouldn't have paid you. Apparently there is nothing to see in Ash Forks."

"There is something that may interest you all," I said, pointing to a special that had been dropped off No. 2 that morning.

"What is it?" asked Madge.

"It's a G. S. special," I said, "and Mr. Camp and Mr. Baldwin and two G. S. officials came in on it."

"What do you think he'd give for those letters?" laughed Fred.

"If they were worth so much to you, I suppose they can't be worth any less to the G. S.," I replied.

"Fortunately there is no way that he can learn where they are," said Mr. Cullen.

"Don't let's stand still," cried Miss Cullen. "Mr. Gordon, I'll run you a race to the end of the platform." She said this only after getting a big lead, and she got there about eight inches ahead of me, which pleased her mightily. "It takes me so long to get started," was the way she explained her victory. Then she walked me beyond the end of the boarding to explain the workings of a switch to her. That it was only a pretext she proved to me the moment I had unlocked the bar by saying:

"Mr. Gordon, may I ask you a question?"

"Certainly," I assented.

"It is one I should ask papa or Fred, but I am afraid they might not tell me the truth. You will, won't you?" she begged very earnestly.

"I will," I said.

"Supposing," she continued, "that it became known that you have those letters? Would it do our side any harm?"

I thought for a moment and then shook my head. "No new proxies could arrive here in time for the election," I said, "and the ones I have will not be voted."

She still looked doubtful and asked, "Then why did papa say just now, 'Fortunately'?"

"He merely meant that it was safer they shouldn't know."

"Then it is better to keep it a secret?" she asked anxiously.

"I suppose so," I said, and then added, "Why should you be afraid of asking your father?"

"Because he might—well, if he knew, I'm sure he would sacrifice himself, and I couldn't run the risk."

"I am afraid I don't understand?" I questioned.

"I would rather not explain," she said, and of course that ended the subject.

Our exercise taken, we went back to the Cullens' car and Madge left us to write some letters. A moment later Lord Ralles remembered he had not written home recently, and he, too, went forward to the dining room. That made me call myself—something, for not having offered Miss Cullen the use of my desk in 97. Owing to this the two missed part of the big game we were playing, for barely were they gone when one of the servants brought a card to Mr. Cullen, who looked at it and exclaimed, "Mr. Camp!" Then, after a speaking pause, in which we all exchanged glances, he said, "Bring him in."

On Mr. Camp's entrance he looked as much surprised as we had all done a moment before. "I beg your pardon for intruding, Mr. Cullen," he said. "I was told that this was Mr. Gordon's car, and I wish to see him."

"I am Mr. Gordon."

"You are traveling with Mr. Cullen?" he inquired, with a touch of suspicion in his manner.

"No," I answered. "My special is the next car, and I was merely enjoying a clear head."

"Ah!" said Mr. Camp. "Then I won't interrupt your smoke, and will only relieve you of those letters of mine."

I took a good pull at my cigar and blew the smoke out in a cloud slowly to gain time. "I don't think I follow you," I said.

"I understand that you have in your possession three letters addressed to me."

"I have," I assented.

"Then I will ask you to deliver them to me."

"I can't do that."

"Why not?" he challenged. "They're my property."

I produced the postmaster general's telegram and read it to him.

"Why, this is infamous!" Mr. Camp cried. "What use will those letters be after the 20th? It's a conspiracy."

"I can only obey instructions," I said.

"It shall cost you your position if you do," Mr. Camp threatened.

As I've already said, I haven't a good temper, and when he told me that I couldn't help retorting:

"That's quite on a par with most G. S. methods."

"I'm not speaking for the G. S., young man," said Mr. Camp. "I speak as a director of the Kansas and Arizona."

What is more, I will have those letters inside of 24 hours."

He made an angry exit, and I said to Fred: "I wish you would stroll about and spy out the proceedings of the enemy's camp. He may telegraph to Washington, and if there's any chance of the postmaster general revoking his order I must go back to Flagstaff on No. 4 this afternoon."

"He shan't do anything that I don't know about till he goes to bed," Fred promised. "But how the deuce did he know that you had those letters?"

That was just what we were all puzzling over, for only the occupants of No. 218 and myself, so far as I knew, were in a position to let Mr. Camp hear of that fact.

As Fred made his exit he said, "Don't tell Madge that there is a new complication, for the dear girl has had worries enough already."

Miss Cullen not rejoicing us, and Lord Ralles presently doing so, I went to my own car, for he and I were not good furniture for the same room. Before I had been there long Fred came rushing in.

"Camp and Baldwin have been in consultation with a lawyer," he said, "and now the three have just boarded those cars," pointing out the window at the branch line train that was to leave for Phoenix in two minutes.

"You must go with them," I urged, "and keep us informed as to what they do, for they evidently are going to set the law on us, and the G. S. has always owned the territorial judges, so they'll stretch a point to oblige them."

"Have I time to fill a bag?"

"Plenty," I answered him, and, going out, I ordered the train held till I should give the word.

"What does it all mean?" asked Miss Cullen, joining me.

I laughed and replied, "I'm holding up a train all by my lonesome."

"But my brother came dashing in just now and said he was starting for Phoenix."

"Let her go," I called to the conductor, as Fred jumped aboard, and the train pulled out.

"I hope there's nothing wrong?" Madge questioned anxiously.

"Nothing to worry over," I laughed.

"Only a little more fun for our money. By the way, Miss Cullen," I went on, to avoid her questions, "if you have your letters ready and will let me have them at once, I can get them on No. 4."

Miss Cullen blushed as if I had said something I ought not to have and stammered, "I—I didn't write them, after all."

"I beg your pardon," I said, thinking what a dunce I had been not to understand that the letters of both herself and Lord Ralles had been only a pretext to get away from the rest of us.

My apology and evident embarrassment deepened Miss Cullen's blush fivefold, and she said hurriedly, "I found I was tired, and so, instead of writing, I went to my room and rested."

I suppose any girl would have invented the same yarn, yet it hurt me more than the bigger one she had told on Hance's trail. Small as the incident was, it made me very blue and led me to shut myself up in my own car for the rest of that afternoon and evening.

Indeed, I couldn't sleep, but sat up working, quite forgetful of the passing hours, till a glance at my watch startled me with the fact that it was a quarter of 2. Feeling like anything more than sleep, I went out on the platform, and, lighting a cigar, paced up and down, thinking of—well, thinking.

The night agent was sitting in the station, nodding, and after I had walked for an hour I went in to ask him if the train to Phoenix had arrived on time. As I opened the door, the telegraph instrument began clicking and called Ash Forks. The man, with the curious ability that operators get of recognizing their own call, even in sleep, waked up instantly and responded, and, not wishing to interrupt him, I delayed asking my question till he should be free. I stood there thinking of Madge, and listening heedlessly as the instrument ticked off the cipher signature of the sending operator, and the "24 paid." But as I heard the clicks which meant ph, I suddenly became attentive, and when it completed Phenix I concluded Fred was wiring me and listened for what followed the date. This is what the instrument ticked:

That may not look particularly intelligible, but if the Phenix operator had been talking over the phone to me he couldn't have said any plainer:

Sheriff Yavapai county ash forks arizona be at railroad station three forty five today to meet train arriving from phoenix prepared to immediately serve peremptory mandamus issued tonight by judge wilson sig theodore e camp.

My question being pretty thoroughly answered, I went back and continued my walk, but before five minutes had passed the operator came out and handed me a message. It was from Fred, and read thus:

Camp, Baldwin, and lawyer went at once to house of Judge Wilson, where they staid an hour. They then returned with judge to station, and after dispatching a telegram have taken seats in train for Ash Forks, leaving here at 3:25. I shall return with them.

A bigger idiot than I could have understood the move. I was to be hauled before Judge Wilson by means of mandamus proceedings, and, as he was coming to Ash Forks solely to oblige Mr. Camp and was notoriously a G. S. judge, he would unquestionably declare the letters the property of Mr. Camp and order their delivery.

Apparently I had my choice of being a traitor to Madge, of going to prison for contempt of court, or of running away, which was not far off from acknowledging that I had done something wrong. I didn't like any one of the options.

A SIMPLE TIRE REPAIR.

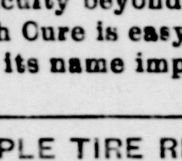

Punctures in the well known Morgan & Wright tire are mended about as easily as a man would close a hole in his finger with a bit of court plaster. Inside of the inner tube of the tire lies a long strip of patching rubber, like this:

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture into this inner tube, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, like this,

the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, like this:

Very simple, but—now every rider should remember these two "buts," or he will fail:

Before injecting cement, pump up the tire. If you don't, the inner tube will be flabby, like this, and the cement will not get inside of it, where the repair strip lies.

When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

"Well, old boy, I think if I were you I would prove to him that I really hadn't a dollar."—Brooklyn Life.

Illinois Grain Dealers Meet.
Decatur, Ill., June 9.—About two hundred members of the Illinois Grain Dealers' Association were at the annual meeting Tuesday. State registration of weighing at grain centers, the landlord lien law, the placing of the grain inspection service under the civil service law and the warehouse bill were all discussed without definite action. Among the changes in the constitution was one fixing dues at $5 a year. Sixty-one new members were admitted. S. S. Tanner, of Minier, was elected president.

In the world to buy "cheap" Groceries is Sanborns. "Cheap" goods drive away customers. The first purchase is never followed by a second. Sanborn offers nothing but the highest quality goods, at the smallest profit, thereby insuring an increase of sales and a continuance of friendship. Large sales at small profits are much better for all interested than small sales at large profits. We think so anyway. Don't you?

Notable Values in Ready-Made Skirts, Silk and Velvet Capes and Wash Goods.

The backward season has thrown thousands of dollars' worth of such merchandise on the market at prices positively less than the cost of manufacture, and the result of Mr. Reid's visit to the market the past week will be found in some of the best offerings of the whole season. Several cases of Wash Goods are among the arrivals and there are many new things among them never seen before.

'Nanola Dimity.' Light and dark grounds, including black and white. Sixty pieces of one of the best fabrics produced; width 26 inches; patterns all new. Your guess at the price would say a shilling, but you would have to guess again, for it's 5c.

Fine Organdies (dimity) and Nainsooks The very newest designs and colorings in a large range of styles; mid-season novelties that are different from the ordinary run. Values as never before—per yard, 10c. Width, 30 inches.

CAPES are necessary for evening wear all summer. To own one of ours is easy; the new line is at half price and less. One of velvet is silk lined, has lace ruche and is embroidered in colors. Twenty of them are offered at $2 87; another of velvet with ribbon ruche, novelty silk lining, is $3.50. One with Empire plait in the back, wide collar of velvet, brocade silk lining, ribbon ruche—$4.00, others up to $7.50. All the above Capes are in black only. Colored Capes are cheaper yet, next to nothing prices.

Silk and Sicilian Skirts. Large patterns are the favorites and this new line displays some handsome designs. They are tailor-made, cut full width, well lined and are positive bargains at the prices, —$2 1/2, $3, $4, $4 1/2, $5, up to $7 1/2 for the silk brocades of ten and twelve dollar values.
